

List of Researchers/Institutions That Provided Letters of Support for the Myocardial Ischemia and Transfusion (MINT) Trial

In March and April 2016, researchers at the following institutions provided letters of support to Dr. Jeffrey Carson, the principal investigator for the MINT Trial, expressing their commitment to, or interest in, participating in the trial as site principal investigators. Following submission of these letters of support, it can take many months for the researchers to obtain final approval for the trial. In some cases, the researcher may withdraw support or leave the institution, or an institution may not give approval.
