1.0 INTRODUCTION

The Data Management Plan (DMP) describes data elements, definitions, and structures for the Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Integrated Decision Support (IIDS) Data Warehouse. IIDS includes the following Data Marts: Apprehension (Arrest), Bond Activity, Detainer, Detention Day, Detention Facility Day, Detention, Detention Stay, Removal Case, Secure Communities (SC), and supporting tables. The database sources are the Enforcement Integrated Database (EID), Enforcement Alien Removal Module (EARM), Bond Management Information System (BMIS), Alien Criminal Response Information Management System (ACRIME), SC Interoperability Controlling Agency Identifier (CRI) Master List, and Automated Biometric Identification System (IDENT).

The IIDS is a data warehouse solution; therefore, this DMP is tailored to present data warehouse concepts and implementations. It describes a data mart implementation developed using dimensional modeling techniques. Refer to Section 3.3, Tailoring for This Data Management Plan, for a specific tailoring description.

The DMP will be updated for each IIDS phase or release, or as otherwise required by ICE. Each new version will include changes made to the IIDS for that release or phase of a release.

1.1 IIDS Overview

1.1.1 What IIDS Accomplishes

The IIDS is a data warehouse which includes data associated with ICE that originates from various database applications. A data warehouse is developed from other organization data structures, but is organized to facilitate rapid results from user queries of integrated data. A data warehouse differs from transactional databases in that users do not input data directly into the data warehouse. That task is handled in the source databases from which the data warehouse extracts its data. A data warehouse such as the IIDS is a decision support database. It is optimally configured to allow users to recognize what data they are looking at, query the database, and receive answers rapidly.

1.1.2 IIDS Release 1.6 Scope

The first portion of this release contains a new set of data structures to support SC reporting requirements. Data is ingested from the ACRIME, IDENT, IIDS, and the SC Interoperability CRI Master List to develop the required reporting database structure.

The second portion of Release 1.6 adds data elements to both the EID data objects and the Secure Communities objects to incorporate data from the calculations of the Criminal Offense Levels.

3.0 ASSUMPTIONS, CONSTRAINTS, AND DOCUMENT TAILORING

This section identifies assumptions and constraints about data management for this release and refers to factors beyond the control of the project team. This section also describes how this document has been tailored to present a data warehouse release.

3.1 Data Management Assumptions

The following are the data management assumptions about current or future situations beyond the control of this data management project, whose outcomes influence the success of the project:

- Adequate manpower and other resources will continue to be available.
- Other development projects that parallel or precede this project will remain on schedule.

3.2 Data Management Constraints

The following are the data management constraints imposed on this data management project because of conditions beyond the control of the project:

- Many of the phases of this project are based on the timely completion of other, parallel database design projects.
- The incremental nature of development may require that earlier implementations be altered as later phases emerge.
- Delays in obtaining necessary and planned human resources will affect delivery times.

3.3 Tailoring For This Data Management Plan

The following are the changes to the format and content of the DMP for IIDS data warehousing development which have been pre-approved by Systems Assurance (SA):

- Appendix A contains the acronyms and abbreviations as noted in the document.
- Section 4.0 briefly explains that discussion of a logical data model is not appropriate. System Lifecycle Management (SLM) documents normally would require that Section 4.0 be about the logical data model. However, since the data warehouse is based on other existing physical databases, a discussion of a logical model is not relevant to this document. Section 4.0 also refers to Appendix B which provides a report of mapping between source and target data elements and their associated business rules.
- Section 5.0 and Appendix C provide information about the DSSSTAR Data Dictionary (DDM) for this release. Appendix C also provides a Data Diagram and Data Dictionary/Metadata information about IIDS physical DDM data elements (i.e., tables, columns, primary keys, foreign keys, etc.).
- Appendix D contains a list of unique reference tables.
- Appendix E contains the data mart and data model mapping for SC.
- Appendix F contains the data mart dimensional model and dimensional tables for SC.

4.0 IIDS LOGICAL DATA MODEL/SOURCE TO TARGET MAPPING

There is no logical model associated directly with the IIDS because the IIDS is derived directly from the physical structures of source databases. For the SC component of Release 1.6, the source database is a set of data elements from ACRIME, IDENT, IIDS, and the SC Interoperability CRI Master List.

The source systems themselves have draft logical models and are linked to the ICE Enterprise Logical Data Model (ELDM). Since IIDS data elements are taken from, or derived from, source data elements such as the EID, there is no need to link the IIDS elements to the ELDM. This decision has been approved by ICE SA.

Appendix B provides the mapping between the dimensional model and the various sources. By definition, the mapping to each source satisfies the mapping of the dimensional model to the ELDM.

4.1 IIDS Data Requirements Narrative

The purpose of IIDS is to provide Business Intelligence (BI) type reporting on the following: Detentions, Removal Cases, Criminal Alien Program (CAP), Institutional Removal Program (IRP), Detention and Removal Productivity, Final Orders, Fugitives, Detainers, Bond issues, and Law Enforcement Support Center (LESC) Immigration Determination. The IIDS is designed to provide a set of fixed standard reports, and ad hoc reporting normally expected of a data warehouse. In addition to the existing data extraction from EID and BMIS data sources, IIDS Release 1.6 expands the data source requirements to extract data from the ACRIME system, the IDENT schema in the EID database, and the SC Interoperability CRI Master List. Appendices B and E provide detailed reports showing table and column mappings and their associated business rules for the IIDS target schemas.

4.2 IIDS Logical Data Model Deviations

There are no deviations.

5.0 IIDS DIMENSIONAL MODEL

This section presents an overview of the IIDS Data Marts for Release 1.6. It also provides general information about a dimensional model design and describes how data requirements are implemented. Appendix C provides the DSSSTAR Data Dictionary and Appendix F provides the SC Data Dictionary.

5.1 IIDS Database Design Narrative

The IIDS physical data model is based on a data warehouse design method known as the dimensional modeling technique, the purpose of which is to provide high performance query responses on significant amounts of data. Dimensional modeling techniques are used extensively for aggregating measures. The following are general statements about the IIDS design:

- The dimensional model is a physical implementation; therefore it is dealt with as a physical data model in SLM documents. Within each IIDS phase and release there are smaller components based on specific business functions: Apprehensions, Detentions, Detainers, Bond Issues, Removals, and Alien Identification. The business function components are represented by one or more star schemas which consist of a fact table and one or more supporting dimension tables. The term star schema is used because the fact table is usually displayed in diagrams at the center and the parent/supporting dimension tables are arranged around it.
- A dimensional model is typically a query-oriented design of a business process. It consists of tables which play one of two general roles: the fact and the dimension. It is generally shown in the form of a star schema where a fact table functions as an associative table between two or more dimension tables.

5.1.1 IIDS Apprehension Dimensional Model Narrative

The Apprehension Dimensional Model consists of information about each EID encounter of a person (Encounter Person) in terms of an apprehension. The Apprehension Fact represents the intersection of an Encounter Person with other information about that person such as their arrival or detentions. Note also that there are various kinds of “person” related to an encounter person. These are determined by different algorithms according to organizational requirements. The Person Dimension is the composite person based on Fingerprint Identification Number (FIN) or biographical matches with the Encounter Person Dimension. The IDENT_Person is a composite person based on fingerprint matching. The EID_Person is a copy of records from the EID Person table. The EID Person table contains data about persons deemed to be valid based on user selection. The Account reference table provides information about funding sources that may apply to a specific immigration enforcement function. Figure 3 below shows the basic relationships between the principal dimensions and facts. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix C.

5.1.2 IIDS Detention Dimensional Model Narrative

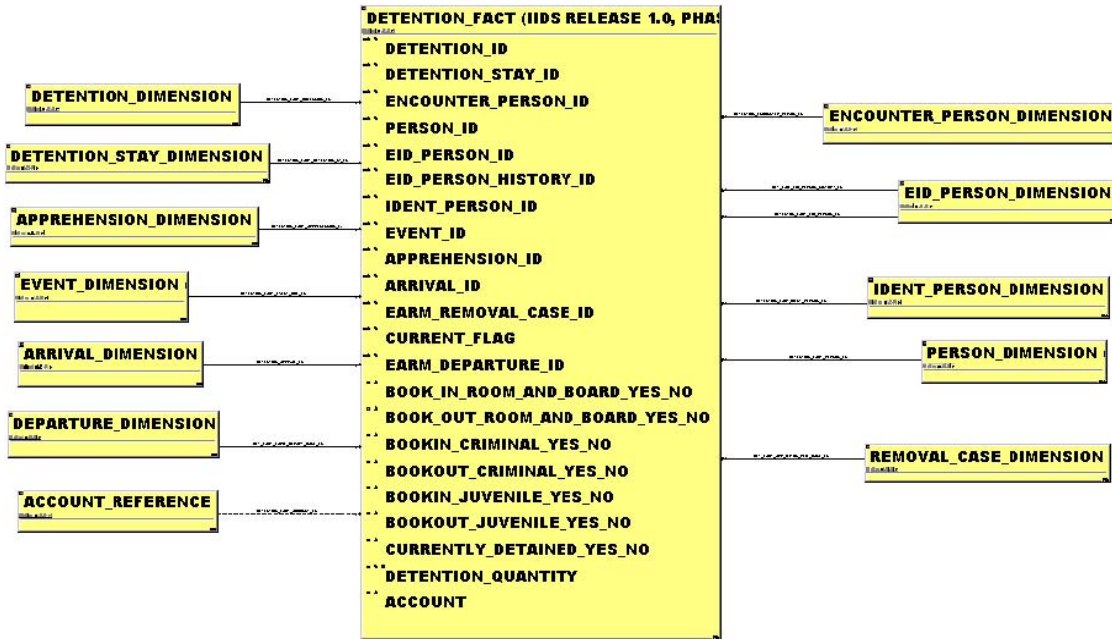

The Detention Dimensional model is supported by four different fact tables with four different star schemas because different information is required about this business function under different circumstances:

- The Detention schema is intended to capture information about the detention of a specific person at a specific facility.
- The Detention Day schema is intended to capture cost and other resource information about a specific person detained for a single day – and the accumulation of these resource costs over time.

- The Detention Stay schema captures information about an entire period of detention for a specific person, whether that stay-period is in one facility or many.
- The Detention Facility Day schema shows information about the inspection, capacities, and usage of specific detention facilities.

Figures 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 below show the basic relationships between the principal dimensions and facts. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix C.

5.1.3 Removal Case and Bond Activity Dimensional Model Narrative

The Removal Dimensional Model and the Bond Activity Dimensional Model support the Alien Removal function of the Detention and Removal Office (DRO). The removal function focuses on cases brought against persons who are non-U.S. Nationals and who are challenging whether they should be allowed into, or remain in, the United States, which may result in their removal or other departure. The Bond Activity Dimensional Model supports that part of the removal function when a party posts a financial amount to guarantee compliance with required actions on the part of a person – usually the alien – who is the subject of the case.

Information is captured about the actions, decisions, court venues, and other data about the case itself. It also captures information about the actual removal, (e.g., to what country removed to, when the individual was removed, travel arrangements, billing arrangements, specific enforcement organizations involved, etc.). Figures 9 and 10 below show the basic relationships between the principal dimensions and facts. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix C.

5.1.4 SC Interoperability Dimensional Model Narrative

The SC Interoperability Dimensional Models support the identification and reporting of activities associated with processing of Immigration Alien Queries (IAQ) messages performed at the LESC. Each interoperability IAQ message is part of the fingerprint search interoperability capability between the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IAFIS) and IDENT systems. The data is organized into a set of dimensional models which facilitate the matching and reporting of the interoperability searches with any related enforcement activities performed against a subject. Each section below presents a description of the underlying purpose of the dimensional model, a list of measures and dimensions pertinent to the model, and a graphical depiction of the model layout.

5.1.4.1 SC Source Dimensional Model

The SC Source Dimensional Model supports the portion of the interoperability process encompassing the results of the LESC’s determination of an individual’s immigration status. It contains the measures and dimensions listed below related to each interoperability search. Due to the duplicative nature of the interoperability transaction data and the transmission of the same data to the IIDS system, additional fields are included in the fact table to reflect the validity period for a particular set of dates equal to the validity period of each search in the transaction details dimension. Figure 11 below shows the basic relationships between the SC Source fact table and its corresponding dimensions. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix F.

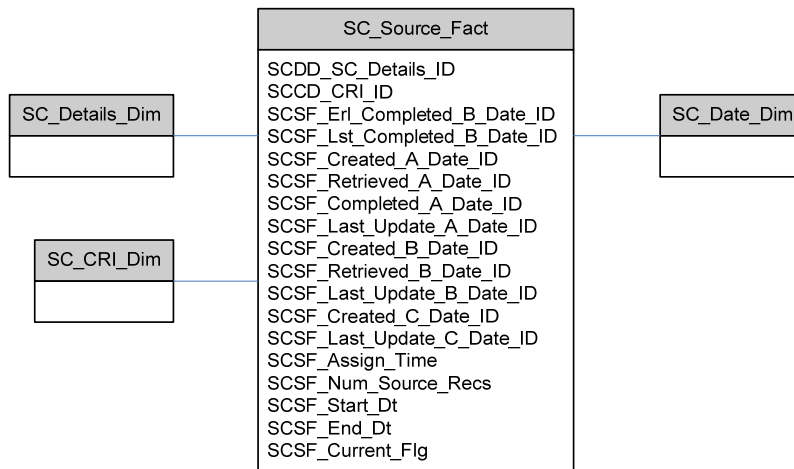

Measures

- Implicit count of 1 for each interoperability search
- Explicit count of the number of interoperability transactions de-duplicated for one search

Dimensions

- Submitting agency
- Interoperability search details
- Various dates related to the processing of the search

5.1.4.2 SC Civilians Dimensional Model

The SC Civilians Dimensional Model supports identifying records integrated into IIDS from the EID which could potentially be the same individual referenced in any interoperability search. It contains the measures and dimensions listed below related to each person identified as a potential match as the subject of the interoperability search. Due to the transformational nature of the IIDS source data from EID, the person matching results may change over time as new data is added or existing data is modified in the IIDS. Additional fields are included in the fact table to reflect the validity period for individual match results to account for this activity. Figure 12 below shows the basic relationships between the SC Civilians fact table and its corresponding dimensions. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix F.

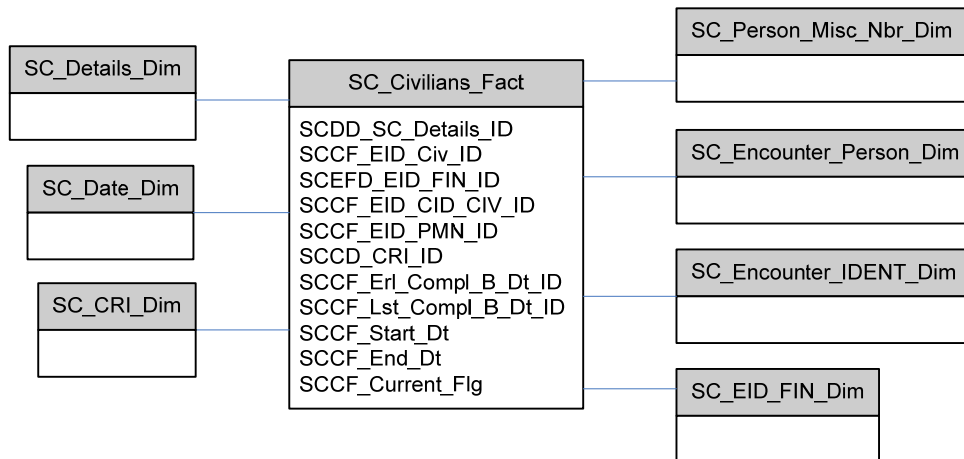

Measures

- Implicit count of 1 for each potential match of an interoperability search to a person

Dimensions

- Submitting agency
- Interoperability search details
- Various dates related to the processing of the search
- Miscellaneous personal identification numbers facilitating a particular match result
- Person data of the matched person
- Fingerprint/encounter data facilitating a particular match result
- Fingerprint/subject data facilitating a particular match result

5.1.4.3 SC Associated Activities Dimensional Model

The SC Associated Activities Dimensional Model supports the association of activities – including detainers, arrests, removal cases, and charging documents – to a particular interoperability search based on the match results to subjects reflected in the Civilians Dimensional Model. It contains the measures and dimensions listed below related to identifying a singular, most likely, instance of each activity related to an interoperability search. Due to the transformational nature of the IIDS source data from EID, the activity selection results may change over time as new data is added or existing data is modified in IIDS. Additional fields are included in the fact table to reflect the validity period for the selected associated activities to account for these changes. Figure 13 below shows the basic relationships between the SC Associated Activities fact table and its corresponding dimensions. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix F.

Measures

- Implicit count of 1 for each interoperability search
- Explicit count indicating if associated activities are attributable to an interoperability search
- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the selected detainer
- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the selected apprehension

Dimensions

- Submitting agency
- Interoperability search details
- Various dates related to the processing of the search
- Selected removal case
- Departure of the selected removal case
- Encounter associated with the selected removal case
- Person associated with the selected removal case
- Final charge of the selected removal case
- Most serious offense of the person associated with the removal case
- Detention stay information since the interoperability search
- Event data of the encounter associated with the removal case
- Selected detainer
- Encounter associated with the selected detainer
- Person associated with the selected detainer
- Event data of the encounter associated with the detainer
- Selected apprehension
- Encounter associated with the selected apprehension
- Person associated with the selected apprehension
- Event data of the encounter associated with the apprehension
- Selected charging document
- Calculation of criminality level data based on selected activities

5.1.4.4 SC Cases Rollup Dimensional Model

The SC Removal Cases Rollup Dimensional Model supports the reporting of interoperability searches and their associated activities from the common case level. It groups all interoperability searches associated with the same case into a single record and includes dimensions that reflect the earliest and latest occurrence of each activity associated with the agglomerated searches. It contains the measures listed below and includes the same dimensions as those listed in section 5.1.4.3 Associated Activities Dimensional Model. Due to the transformational nature of the IIDS source data from EID and the potential for cases being linked to additional interoperability searches, the case rollup results may change over time as new data is added or existing data is modified in IIDS. Additional fields are included in the fact table to reflect the validity period for the rollup of interoperability searches to the matched case level. Figure 14 below shows the basic relationships between the SC Cases Rollup fact table and its corresponding dimensions. Detailed information is in the Data Dictionary in Appendix F.

Measures

- Implicit count of 1 for each case associated to at least one interoperability search
- Explicit count of the number of interoperability searches associated to each case

- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the earliest selected detainer
- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the latest selected detainer
- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the earliest selected apprehension
- Explicit sum of the number of days between the interoperability search and the latest selected apprehension

Dimensions

See Section 5.1.4.3 – SC Associated Activities Dimensional Model – for further information about the dimensions.

5.1.5 IIDS Code Table Narrative

Code tables are based on the EID source information. See Appendix D – IIDS Unique Reference

Tables – for a list of IIDS code tables.

5.2 IIDS Denormalization Decisions

Denormalization is a desired design feature of dimensional modeling; therefore, it is counter-productive to document each de-normalization decision. As a general rule, dimensions are de-normalized to Second normal form and fact tables are designed to be Third normal form – as determined by the business rules applied to each fact table. There is room for variability in these guidelines because a table could be a dimension table or a fact table depending on its role in the query.

5.3 IIDS Physical Data Model Deviations

This Data Management Plan is for a Data Mart, based on dimensional design methods. A dimensional model, while based on relational technology, is fundamentally different than a 3NF relational model. Refer to Section 3.3 for general exception descriptions.
